

STEPS TO TAKE

1. Book your flight
2. Make an appointment for PCR test
3. Contact your neighborhood committee (juweihui) requesting for permission (Medical Pass) to leave your compound, on the specific dates, in order to take PCR test* / flight
4. Book car service to drive you to the airport (or airport shuttle, if this option is available in your area of residence)
5. Take PCR test within 48 hours prior to departure
6. Take antigen test within 24 hours prior to departure (NB: must be uploaded to Chinese mini program 疫测达 (yi ce da))
7. On the day of departure: Leave for the airport minimum 5 hours before your flight is scheduled to take off.
8. At the airport: You will need to scan a QR code in order to receive a code for entering the airport (the code must be green).
9. At security: Scan the code and fill in a form on China Customs mini program
10. Take care and have a safe flight!

*Once you have your PCR-test booked, make the request for Medical Pass 1 day in advance, attaching your flight ticket, passport copy and hospital appointment confirmation.

Please also make sure that you will be able to come back into your compound afterwards. Otherwise, booking a private healthcare person to come testing you at your compound gate is also an option.
